

“Unlike a class that gives a dose of learning and possibly some feedback, Toastmasters International offers a long-term opportunity for continual individual growth and development for a surprising low cost. I can think of no other training investment that offers an equivalent return”

–John H. Peck, Director of Management and Technical Services Division, Michigan OSHA – Dept. of Labor and Economic Growth.

Invest in Your Potential

The Benefits of a Toastmasters Membership:

- Fun, laughter and friends
- Follow a proven program to cultivate your communication and leadership skills.
- You can progress at your own pace within a supportive learning community.
- Learn to organize your thoughts and present them clearly.
- Learn to speak so your ‘audience’ cares to listen and act.
- Progress faster with mentoring and constructive feedback.
- Gain access to an abundance of educational resources.
- Unlimited opportunities are available for personal and professional growth.

Karen Newhouse. “I was recently given the opportunity to do a live interview of a top Kellogg’s executive. Nearly 200 people were in attendance and it was video-taped to share with the entire company. Toastmasters allowed me to create an atmosphere that was relaxed and enjoyable for my guest and audience. You never know the doors that Toastmasters will open for you.”

David Lowry. “I wear hearing aids. I have learned to make sure that I am not speaking too loudly or too softly. Toastmasters has given me the confidence to prepare and deliver speeches, evaluate other presenters and of course make lots of new friends. It has been a rewarding experience.”

Karen Coffey, owner of Coffey at Law, LLC. “I looked into Toastmasters because I’ve heard about it for years and I wanted to meet interesting people in the community. I had no idea it would also be so much FUN! I knew before the end of the first meeting that membership was right for me.”
